Much has transpired since first publishing "Lyme Disease and the SS Elbrus" a decade ago refuting Jessie Ventura and Michael Carroll's Plum Island conspiracy theories. Suspicion, instead is cast upon the Soviet fur shipping industry as the source of this plague. View the evidence and think!

The photos on the cover of this book are of a German Paperclip scientist, a Dragon Returnee from Russia in the midst of the Cold War. But which Dragon? When DOW chemist, Henry Tolkmith was interviewed at his Florida retirement home about his WWII Paperclip dossier photos, this Dragon denied the photos were of himself, opening the door to even wider speculation over a HICOG sanctioned identity theft. The photos hold a striking similarity to Dr. Josef Mengele. Who was this man, a mild mannered I.G. Farben POW escaping Beketovka's poison gas factory; or Auschwitz's infamous Angle of Death seeking Western asylum?

What had Adjutant Mengele witnessed at Katyn in 1940 while serving the Waffen Pruf 9 Nebeltruppen's decontamination missions deep inside Russia? His expertise on both poison gas and tick borne diseases of the nervous system made him a hot commodity both East and West. Follow the fur, 426 tons of uninsured slaughtered wildlife and livestock atop the SS Elbrus leading a fleet of Flying Dutchmen and ponder a communist/fascist plot to cripple humanity and dope the belligerents. Here is a 60 year international conspiracy of silence driving international terrorism, cranking the meat-grinder of war, not in God's name, but the devil's.
