Abraham Lincoln is a well known and a popular political figure in the history of the United States. He was the 16th President of the United States and served the nation from March 1861 till he was assassinated in April 1865. He was responsible for abolishing slavery, modernizing the US economy, strengthening the national government and preserving the Union after the bloodiest Civil War. He was the member of the United States House of representatives from Illinois 7th district and served in office from March 4th 1847 to March 5th 1849. Abraham Lincoln was born in a poor family on February 12th, 1809 and died at the age of 56.

He was a lawyer by profession and later became a politician. Lincoln had also served as a captain in the Illinois Militia and served there for three months, first as a captain for thirty days during the Black Hawk war and then later as a private in the mounted Rangers. He was considered to be the best President to have taken charge of the United States and is praised highly for holding the Union together and to help North gain victory in the Civil War. The political parties that Lincoln was part of were: Whig (1834-1854), Republican (1854-1865) and National Union (1864-1865). Lincoln's wife was Mary Todd and he had four children.
