Watch the epic film about the prophet Elijah in your imagination before it hits the big screens.

Elijah runs counter to modern culture just as much as to the culture of his day, and maybe a lot more so, which is probably why the film industry has ignored him and his message up to now.

"How long will ye go hobbling on two different legs?" The challenge he roared to the Israelites assembled on Mount Carmel rings, if anything, more true in an age of confusion like ours, an age in which all official organs require us to treat false beliefs as equal to true ones, an age in which even true believing Christians lose supernatural power because they can't make up their minds between the Light and the darkness. There are so many voices creating fudge that we succumb to them and lose our power without realizing it has happened.

The one voice that instantly rids us of the confusion and restores our power to us is the voice of the great prophet Elijah. We need the message of Elijah more than we ever needed it before.

Sit back and enjoy the pure Light from the word of God.
